Stimulate Local Economies

Locally sourced products, such as fresh produce, reduce their "food miles" (the amount of their miles in order to reach consumers) compared to other food sources.

Local money circulates in the community.

Preserve Farmland & Rural Livelihoods

The U.S. loses an average of 100,000 acres of farmland each year to development.

The U.S. National Farmers Union estimates the agricultural sector received support for 8,491 acres of farmland in diversified production.

23% of vendors

Increase Access to Fresh, Nutritious Food

60%

60% of farmers market respondents in the 2018 survey reported that their market has helped provide them with greater access to fresh, nutritious food.

300%

300% increase in fresh produce sales at farmers markets from 2010 to 2019.

Support Healthy Communities

People who shop at farmers markets tend to eat more nutritious and fresh foods.

They spend about 1.5 times more on fresh produce items.

Markets provide the opportunity for farmers and growers to educate the public on food safety.
